ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM

The New Mexico Symposium on Health is where the future of public health in New Mexico takes shape. Every year, hundreds of healthcare professionals, public health leaders, researchers, educators, policymakers, and community advocates come together for two powerful days of learning, collaboration, and innovation.

Sponsored by the Nicotine Use Prevention and Control Program (NUPAC) of New Mexico, this statewide gathering is more than a conference—it's a movement. It elevates bold ideas, breakthrough strategies, and community-driven solutions that strengthen health outcomes statewide.

2026 PROGRAM TRACKS

- Food Is Medicine
- Nicotine Policy & Prevention
- Social Drivers of Health
- Maternal & Child Health
- Diabetes, Heart & Stroke
- Healthy Aging

HIGH-IMPACT LEARNING EXPERIENCE

Sessions are selected through a rigorous proposal process requiring abstracts, learning objectives, and engagement strategies. This ensures every breakout offers evidence-based, applicable, and equity-centered content tailored to New Mexico communities.

WHO ATTENDS

- Public health officials
- Healthcare providers
- Community health workers
- Behavioral & mental health professionals
- Nonprofit organizations
- Researchers & academic partners
- Program managers and administrators

The Symposium draws 250–300 professionals annually from more than 50 organizations statewide.

WHY SPONSOR?
